La Vergne vacation rental checklist

Rutherford County, Tennessee | Rules checked November 5, 2026

Scan for the latest version

We found no short-term rental permit or rules in La Vergne's code. You owe 9.75% sales tax + 5% county occupancy tax, plus any city occupancy tax and need a state business tax license once gross receipts reach $3,000 a year.

> We searched the city code, including its zoning title, in November 2026 and found no short-term rental rules. La Vergne's code levies an occupancy tax at a rate set in the yearly fee schedule, but DOR's report lists no city rate. Ask the city.

Licensing steps

STATE OF TENNESSEE

- [ ] Register for sales tax
  Register through the Tennessee Taxpayer Access Point (TNTAP). One registration covers all your rentals in the same city or county. If you take direct bookings, collect 7% plus the local rate and file by the 20th of each month. Once registered, file every month, even a $0 return.
  TNTAP: https://tntap.tn.gov/
- [ ] Get a business tax license
  Rentals under 180 days owe business tax. With $3,000 to $100,000 a year in gross receipts in a city or county you need a minimal activity license; at $100,000 or more, a standard license. Booking platforms don't handle this for you.
- [ ] Know what the platform collects
  Airbnb, VRBO, and other marketplaces collect and remit sales tax and local occupancy tax on their bookings. Keep records showing they did. For direct bookings, you pay sales tax to the state and occupancy tax to the city or county.
- [ ] Then your county and city
  Permits, zoning, and occupancy tax rates are where Tennessee towns differ most. Pick your area.

  Pick your area.

CITY OF LA VERGNE

- [ ] Register for sales and occupancy tax
  Tax on stays here is 9.75% sales tax + 5% county occupancy tax, plus any city occupancy tax. Airbnb and VRBO collect both on their bookings. For direct bookings, file sales tax with the state through TNTAP by the 20th of each month. Remit the county's 5% to the County Clerk; ask the city whether its own occupancy tax applies and where to file it.
- [ ] Ask about zoning
  Ask the City of La Vergne whether zoning allows a short-term rental at your address. Check your HOA rules too.
