Travis County, Texas | Rules checked November 8, 2026

Bee Cave has no short-term rental rules: the city code doesn't define them, and the city said in 2024 it had no plans to. Stays owe 6% state plus 7% city hotel tax, which you file with the city yourself.

Licensing steps

STATE OF TEXAS

- [ ] Know who pays the hotel tax
  Airbnb collects and pays the 6% state hotel tax on its bookings. If guests pay you directly or through a site that doesn't collect, register with the Comptroller and file the state tax yourself.

- [ ] Register for local hotel tax
  Your city (and in some places your county) charges its own hotel tax, filed with that city or county, not the state. Airbnb pays it only in the places on its list; everywhere else you register and file it yourself, even for Airbnb bookings.

- [ ] Check your city's rules
  Many Texas cities require a short-term rental permit or registration, and some require an inspection, a local contact, or posted rules. Outside city limits there's usually no permit, but deed restrictions and HOA rules often limit rentals. Pick your area for the local rules.

TRAVIS COUNTY, TEXAS

- [ ] Then your city
  Texas counties can't zone, so rental rules come from the city your home is in. Outside city limits there's usually no permit, but deed restrictions and HOA rules may limit rentals. Pick your city.

- [ ] Outside city limits
  In unincorporated Travis County, including Austin's extraterritorial jurisdiction, you don't need an Austin license and don't owe Austin's hotel tax. You still owe the 6% state hotel tax, which Airbnb collects on its bookings.

CITY OF BEE CAVE

- [ ] Hotel taxes on each stay
  Stays of 29 nights or less owe the 6% state hotel tax, which Airbnb collects on its bookings. If guests pay you directly, file it with the Texas Comptroller. Bee Cave's 7% hotel tax isn't on Airbnb's collection list, so ask the city how to register and file it yourself.
