Licensing steps

STATE OF TEXAS

- [ ] Know who pays the hotel tax
  Airbnb collects and pays the 6% state hotel tax on its bookings. If guests pay you directly or through a site that doesn't collect, register with the Comptroller and file the state tax yourself.

- [ ] Register for local hotel tax
  Your city (and in some places your county) charges its own hotel tax, filed with that city or county, not the state. Airbnb pays it only in the places on its list; everywhere else you register and file it yourself, even for Airbnb bookings.
- [ ] Check your city's rules
  Many Texas cities require a short-term rental permit or registration, and some require an inspection, a local contact, or posted rules. Outside city limits there's usually no permit, but deed restrictions and HOA rules often limit rentals. Pick your area for the local rules.

TRAVIS COUNTY, TEXAS

- [ ] Then your city
  Texas counties can't zone, so rental rules come from the city your home is in. Outside city limits there's usually no permit, but deed restrictions and HOA rules may limit rentals. Pick your city.
- [ ] Outside city limits
  In unincorporated Travis County, including Austin's extraterritorial jurisdiction, you don't need an Austin license and don't owe Austin's hotel tax. You still owe the 6% state hotel tax, which Airbnb collects on its bookings.

CITY OF LAGO VISTA

- [ ] Ask the city about a permit
  Ask the City of Lago Vista whether a short-term rental needs a permit, registration, or inspection at your address, and whether zoning limits where they're allowed. Check your deed restrictions and HOA rules too.
- [ ] Hotel taxes on each stay
  Stays of 29 nights or less owe the 6% state hotel tax, which Airbnb collects on its bookings. If guests pay you directly, file it with the Texas Comptroller. Lago Vista doesn't report a city hotel tax rate to the Comptroller; ask the city whether it has one and how to file.
